The University Of Alberta School Of Business invites applications for a full-time tenured or tenure-track faculty position in Statistics/Econometrics with an emphasis on business analytics. Demonstrated interest in Management Information Systems or Operations Management will be considered an asset. The anticipated start date is July 1, 2020.

Candidates will have graduated from an accredited PhD program in a relevant area, such as Statistics, Econometrics, or Operations Research. Candidates who are close to PhD completion may be considered; however, the appointment will be contingent upon the completion of the PhD by an agreed-upon date. It will be considered an asset if candidates possess an excellent research record or have the potential to publish in top journals in Statistics/Econometrics, have an alignment with the current research competencies of the department (high dimensional statistics or time series), and have shown evidence of teaching excellence. Candidate applicants will have a proven track record of (or demonstrated interest in) institution building and service in addition to exceptional scholarship in Statistics/Econometrics. Proficiency in English is required.

Responsibilities of the position include teaching Statistics/Management Science courses in undergraduate and graduate programs, conducting and publishing research in top tier Statistics/Econometrics journals, and service to the School’s academic activities. The Alberta School of Business has an energetic PhD program and the successful candidate will be expected to play an active role in its continuing success and development.

The Alberta School of Business is one of the world’s leading institutions in business education and research. As the first and longest continually accredited business school in Canada, the Alberta School of Business is one of the largest business schools in Canada with 75 faculty members, 2100 undergraduate students, and 800 students in our Masters and PhD programs. Since 1916, the innovative ideas, entrepreneurial spirit and leadership of the School’s more than 26,000 alumni have strengthened businesses and communities worldwide. Our vision is simple, yet powerful: To develop and inspire entrepreneurial leaders from Alberta for the World. Our mission is to excel and lead through research, teaching and external engagement.
