

Statistician/ Senior Statistician

The Royal Marsden NHS Foundation Trust, London, UK

Apply

An exciting opportunity has arisen for a statistician / senior statistician to join Royal Marsden. We are looking for an enthusiastic and self-motivated team player to contribute to study design and analysis of cancer clinical trials.

- - The statistician/ senior statistician will provide statistical support and expertise for Royal Marsden clinical trials working together with clinicians, trial managers and database programmers.
 - Experience in STATA, Excel and SPSS is required and any experience in clinical trial data management system eg MACRO, OpenClinica, INFORM would be an advantage.

The successful applicant will be educated to degree level or equivalent with extensive experience in clinical trial database design and familiarity with the regulatory environment surrounding clinical trials. The vacancy is for two years.

You Will Also Have

- A flexible but organized approach to work with the ability to work under pressure and to tight deadlines.
- The ability to work as part of a small team and with a number of key colleagues across more than one department and site.

<https://www.statsjobs.com/job/statistician-senior-statistician-2/>